Journeyways

A BOARD GAME ABOUT BECOMING.

Step into a world where identity is not chosen but uncovered. In Journeyways, you don't play to win; you play to unfold.

Quick Reference

Each turn has three phases: Explore, Pick, Reflect.

- Explore: place a map tile (or invent one on a sticky note), then move one or two spaces.
- Pick: take a card from any pile, even the Discard pile.
- Reflect: do what the card asks, then write in your journal.

What the card colours mean

- Green: movement.
- Blue: a quote to reflect on.
- Red: an encounter.
- Purple: a group event (leave these out for solo play).
- Black: the passing of time. The game ends when the fifth Black card is picked.

Good to know

- Green and Purple ask you to perform the action shown; Blue and Red invite a journal entry.
- There is no winning or losing, only becoming. Take as much time as you need.
- Turns are not strict: play when you have the opportunity to do so.
- Any rule can be bent or changed, as long as everyone playing agrees.

Character Sheet Journeyways

Where do I come from?

Where am I now?

What/who am I?

Why?

What do I look like?

What's my name?

What's my goal, what am I here to do, what's my nature?

Character Sheet Journeyways

Where am I now?

What do I look like now?

What/who am I now?

What's my name?

What changed?

What's my story title?

What is one word that stays with me?

What is one question that stays with me?

What is one place in the map I would like to revisit?
